

NO SCRUNCHIE

Had a bad experience in an Afro salon? Wished you'd seen an honest review beforehand? You are not alone. Leillah Sekalala is the founder of NoScrunchie.com, a site which encourages users to rate their Afro salon experiences. After moving to the UK from Uganda, Leillah had many bad experiences at salons and decided it was time for others to share their reviews. The site has a forum where users can offer their own hair tips and advice to others, and is the UK's first salon ratings website for Afro hair.

HAIR NEWS

Feature: Krissy Turner • Main image: Imaxtree

GO NUTS FOR COCONUTS

Extra virgin coconut oil is the latest craze sweeping the celebrity circuit, with fans including the Kardashians and supermodel, Miranda Kerr. TIANA's range of coconut oils beautify from the inside out, and are a must-have for your daily hair, beauty and diet regimes. Tiana's Organic Pure Virgin Coconut Oil can be used as a hair conditioner, body moisturiser, and can even be eaten by the spoonful or used as a cooking oil! TIANA Organic Argan Fresh Coconut TLC is an intensive hair treatment that can be slathered on hair to repair damage, give instant shine and keep tresses silky, soft and smooth. We're addicted.

BE A BLOWPRO

Haircare brand, 4below1, have created the ultimate product line designed to perfect, protect and prolong your blowdry. The award-winning line is infused with Blowpro's exclusive pure protein blend, and features products that are free from sulphates, parabens and sodium chloride. The prep and styling range includes Straight To The Point Straightening Lotion, Ready Set Blow Express Blow Dry Lotion and Tress Relief Leave-in Conditioning Treatment. The products are all designed to shorten the length of time and amount of heat used when blowdrying hair, making them perfect for straightening addicts and curly girls who love to flirt with straight styles.

